METHOD OF CULTIVATION

Grown Organically in Living Soil

Cultivated in living soil, by PharmaRolly, which involves nurturing beneficial native microorganisms within the soil, using organic inputs to organically grow cannabis with higher potency, higher concentrations of terpenes and flavonoids. Using sun-enhanced cultivation methods to produce the most desirable effects, superior quality, and complex flavours.

Organic cultivation fosters a diverse and fully developed terpene profile, leading to a more robust and well-rounded experience, pronounced entourage effect, enhancing the overall benefits of the plant.

Some patients may prefer trying a smaller amount of living soil cannabis when first using the medicine because effects can be different than many other Cannabis Flowers.
